Grouped Basic Aspects

Sun (22°) & Mercury (23°) & Saturn (23°) & Pluto (23°) & Ceres (22°) Conjunct in Capricorn

Time Sun Mercury Peak: Jan 10, 2020 @ 15ut \(Jan 3@20ut to Jan 16@22ut\) 13d.2h
Waning

Capricorn: Capricorn is a cardinal earth sign ruled by Saturn. It brings in the traits of being responsible, disciplined and displayed self-control. There is a strong support of tradition, family, quality craftsmanship and music. On the darker side, it can be a know-it-all, unforgiving and condescending. It's an energy that can make you see the worst in things which can be seen as not liking things. It tends to bring in an ability to understand how to make reasonable plans and learn from mistakes. It can make it hard to accept the differences of others.

Sun: The Sun represents the center of power. It radiates energy, inspiration, enthusiasm and wisdom. It is the focal point, the leader, the supreme authority, the figurehead representing all people in positions of power particularly the president, prime minister, the heads of state, cabinet ministers, judges, magistrates, aristocracy, key figureheads or people of distinction including public heroes and national champions. When conflicted it creates anger, pride and conceit. It can be thought of as an energy with conscious intent.

Mercury: Mercury represents the energy of the messenger which is highlighted through intellect and communication. It is directly linked to the exchange of information through the press, literature, internet, teachers, journalists and reporters. It is associated with all the areas of life that facilitate communication like schools, colleges, universities, TV, phones and cars, planes, trains with their associated infrastructure. It also deals with propaganda, fake news, business deals, rumors, political lobbying and positions in governments, or corporations, that deal with negotiations, writing law and debate. It can be thought of as the energy regarding how someone gets educated or how someone might educate someone else. It is eloquent, perceptive, intellectual and adaptable.

Saturn: Saturn is all about the energies of restriction and restraint that go towards building character. It is linked with lessons, limitations, regulations, formalities, tradition, order, rules and responsibilities. It has dominion over the elderly and deals with death. It is associated with sickness, epidemics, funerals, the national death rate, life expectancy and anything that causes mass public sadness or disappointment. It also represents the formal side of government, civil service, police, poverty and the borders. On a physical level, land issues and ownership, farmers, mining, coal and industries connected to metals and minerals. On the positive side, the energy drives a sense of discipline, focus, concentration and self-control. It is the focus that helps people achieve their objectives.

Pluto: Pluto represents the energies in the realm of the subconscious that deal with metamorphosis, regeneration, transformation and detection. It is the ruler of the underworld and all about secret information, hidden resources, hidden societies, violence, dictatorship, secret police, lone terrorists and all other aspects of life that are carried out in the dark hidden from public view like organized crime, espionage and rape. In literal terms, think about the sewers, mines, caves, bunkers and atomic energy. It can generally be thought of as a nasty energy, yet the results of its actions can be life altering. In the end, it brings growth, healing, rebirth, detection and knowledge that no other transformation can bring.

Ceres: Ceres represents the energy that is given to nurture. It is that joyful feminine energy that is exchanged during the act of growing and watching those that you care for become mature and whole. Yet, at the same time it represents that relentless energy of a mother scorned. It is linked to food, cooking, shelter, culture, tradition and the development of the spirit. It is also associated with the garden, seeds, fruits, vegetables along with hotels, motels, airports, stations which are the waypoints when traveling. There are deep connections to the abdomen both physically and emotionally. When afflicted, there are elements of both water and fire. Inwardly, it can manifest as depression, unbearable loss, withdrawal, grief, deprivation and hunger. Outwardly it brings a fiery retribution to those that are unkind. It acts like instant karma. There is no tolerance for those that mistreat others. This energy helps show what is deeply cared for and worth fighting for.

Conjunct: The conjunction points out a situation of prominence as it adds a richer emphasis on the heightened, strengthened and amplified planetary attributes within the sign that can be seen as either favorable or unfavorable.

- Juno in Libra (19°) Square (~90°) Conjunction

Time Juno Ceres Peak: Dec 29, 2019 @ 4ut (Aug 11@7ut to Jan 29@18ut) 171d.11h
Waning

Libra: This is a cardinal air sign, ruled by Venus that tends to accentuate the intellectual characteristics of being diplomatic, fair-minded, social and cooperative. This energy loves being in harmony, balance, sharing and being unbounded. When in discord, it can be indecisive or non-confrontational. It can carry a grudge, but it strongly dislikes violence, injustice in any form. There is a fascination of symmetry, equality, balance that rules the energy to its core.

Juno: Juno represents the types of characteristics that one is faithful, or loyal too. It is a softer feminine energy that defines characteristics that help form long term bonds. It shows what has been committed too or what brings satisfaction. It naturally brings things together so that the experience can be worked through. It is the energy of relationships and how they work together. It is more of a practical, submissive energy. If not well aspected, issues regarding spousal abuse, powerlessness, rage, unfairness, inferiority issues, betrayal, inequality and bitterness result. It is linked to real-life functioning relationships rather than the glorification of them.

Square: The square is a high-discord obstacle situation where the matters ruled by the planets are blocked creating a condition of struggle, frustration and violent actions towards resolving the irreconcilable desires.

- Eris(R) in Aries (23°) Square (~90°) Conjunction

Time Eris Ceres Peak: Jan 14, 2020 @ 7ut (Dec 25@7ut to Feb 3@14ut) 40d.7h Peaking
Waxing

Aries: This is a cardinal fire sign that brings out a courageous, confident, enthusiastic and optimistic type of characteristics. Aries likes to step into roles of leadership, be impulsive and aggressive. When agitated, these energies are also impatient, moody, aggressive. Aries doesn't like delays. Ruled by Mars.

Eris: This energy comes to us in the spirit of trouble through chaos. It is a subtle energy that feeds off the problems it can stir up in others. It could be thought of as the mean girl that goes to great lengths to make sure everyone else is uncomfortable. The base ideas are fighting, quarrelling, discord, strife and rejoicing in havoc. Look for this energy to highlight trouble, toil, oblivion, hunger, pain, murder, carnage, brawls, disputes, ruin, forgetfulness, deceit and lawlessness. It is linked to computer security, cultural status issues and fire. Eris is going to try to stir up discord in whatever location it interacts with in the chart. It shows us the areas in life where we can be distracted. It will suggest the characteristics that should be resisted in order to refrain from bring joy to the mean girl Eris.

Being retrograde, the influences from this asteroid are reduced or not see being critical and immediate. It may be easier to not be drawn into the chaos as the discord may be easier to handle.

Square: The square is a high-discord obstacle situation where the matters ruled by the planets are blocked creating a condition of struggle, frustration and violent actions towards resolving the irreconcilable desires.

Capricorn: Capricorn is a cardinal earth sign ruled by Saturn. It brings in the traits of being responsible, disciplined and displayed self-control. There is a strong support of tradition, family, quality craftsmanship and music. On the darker side, it can be a know-it-all, unforgiving and condescending. It's an energy that can make you see the worst in things which can be seen as not liking things. It tends to bring in an ability to understand how to make reasonable plans and learn from mistakes. It can make it hard to accept the differences of others.

Jupiter: Jupiter represents energies that are all about wisdom, moderation, generosity, prosperity and abundance. It is linked closely to the judicial and religious systems. It has influence over high courts, legal proceedings, law, judges, religious leaders, clergy, preachers, upper class, royalty and ceremonies. It is also tied in with the banking system, banks, material wealth, teachers and also advisors to the head of state. There is implied nobility, class and diplomacy. Think about the activities that lead to higher learning, philosophy, ethics and understanding. It's what's behind the ambition or what drives the career. Good fortune and luck go hand in hand with this planet.

Taurus: This is a fixed earth sign that accentuates the traits of being reliable, patient and devoted. Being ruled by Venus, there is a strong attraction to high quality workmanship, music and romance. This is a sensual, tactile and committed energy that is willing to stick it out until the end. It can be overprotective, conservative, materialistic and love money. This energy doesn't like sudden change or complications.

Uranus: Uranus represents an energy where sudden or unexpected change is made by exploring creativity, originality and individuality. It rules electricity and all the technology that goes along with it. It's linked to scientific discovers, inventions, explosions and the inventors, scientists and business people that work in these fields. It is associated with sudden change, anarchy, rebellion, unrest, upheaval, strikes, riots as its influence is towards individualism. Right-wing political ideas and fascism are supported here along with free-market enterprise, anarchy and nihilism. It is tied to unruly events, wild changes in weather and outer space. The energy can bring out people's highest potential as they strive for independence and transform their environment through the use of technology.

Being retrograde, the electrified and explosive nature that comes with these influences are dampened giving more time to processing and internalizing what is unfolding. This time could be seen as a time of festering on the negative influences in order to analyze how they feel. The result is a more mature approach to handling the situation as the planet turns direct again.

Trine: The trine is an aspect that shows where two planets harmonize in a cooperative state to create a situation of good-fortune, ease of expression and greater rewards for the effort applied.

Aries: This is a cardinal fire sign that brings out a courageous, confident, enthusiastic and optimistic type of characteristics. Aries likes to step into roles of leadership, be impulsive and aggressive. When agitated, these energies are also impatient, moody, aggressive. Aries doesn't like delays. Ruled by Mars.

Chiron: Chiron symbolizes strength through suffering. It is the recognition that pain leads to spiritual growth and perseverance is found from within. This energy flows out of health and disease as the experience helps build insight and respect for the conditions that bind the flesh to dampen the spirit. It is tied to social workers, doctors, nurses, psychologists, teachers, therapists, physicians, counselors, gurus, philosophers and herbalists. It touches on medicine, music, arts, massage, physical therapy and meditation. It is wise, patient inner guidance from the point of view of a shaman, spiritual guide or healer. It is learning through doing and dealing with the crisis that is unescapable. It teaches forgiveness and empathy for all life. Nothing is perfect and everyone lives with some form of pain. It helps show where the wounds lie, where the insecurities are and what we might be struggling to overcome.

Square: The square is a high-discord obstacle situation where the matters ruled by the planets are blocked creating a condition of struggle, frustration and violent actions towards resolving the irreconcilable desires.
